
NEIL BARRY

Dear Recruitment Team,

I am writing to express my interest in the development position. As a self-taught web developer with a bachelor's degree in mathematics and seven years of managerial experience in the hospitality industry, I am confident in my ability to make a valuable contribution to your team.

Throughout my career in hospitality, I have had the opportunity to lead diverse teams of hospitality professionals and tackle many unique and demanding challenges. My responsibilities have included the management and training of staff, scheduling, budgeting and overseeing all other operating procedures. I have a proven track record of diligence and have spearheaded countless growth initiatives to increase the revenue and reputation of the various businesses I have represented. During my time in the industry I have developed strong leadership and project-managing skills as well as a deep understanding of the importance of communication and collaboration. These skills, combined with my passion for technology and strong foundation in mathematics, have allowed me to successfully transition into the field of web development.

In the past couple of years, I have dedicated myself to learning various programming languages, libraries and frameworks. I have gained a firm grasp of core web principles and am proficient in HTML, CSS and Javascript as well as other popular technologies such as React, Node, MongoDB and Express. Additionally, I have a strong understanding of responsive design conventions and experience with database modelling, querying and optimization. By utilizing these skills I have completed a number of successful freelance and personal web development projects. I am eager to apply my skills and experience to the wider software development industry and bring my distinctive perspective and skill set to your team. My diverse background and technical capabilities make me a unique and valuable candidate for this position.

Thank you for your consideration. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss this position further and how I can contribute to the success of your team.

Sincerely,
Neil Barry
